 Thursdays 4:30 to 5pm

I'll hold my office hours outside our classroom

Readings: We will read and discuss original readings on key topics and issues in personal and collective identity development. The readings are posted on Canvas.

This seminar focuses on adolescents and young adults' personal and collective identities. Personal identity—our sense of “me-ness,” includes our personalities, beliefs, goals, and value systems. Collective (social) identities, our sense of “we-ness,” include the values, beliefs, and self-esteem we derive from our membership in the different groups we find meaningful in our lives, such as gender, ethnicity, social class, and/or sexuality, and the emotional significance that we attach to our group memberships. Within both the personal and collective arenas, some domains will be more salient and central to us than others, and the salience and centrality of these domains will vary across our lifespan. For example, for some of you gender, ethnicity, social class, or sexuality became more salient and central when you came to college, but for others these domains declined in importance and other domains, such as career, political, or religious identities, became more salient and central.

This senior seminar has three goals. To obtain an excellent or outstanding (A, A+) grade in the course you must do excellent work in the 3 goals of the course.

(1) Master the material and participate in discussion

Participating in a discussion involves:

- Respectfully evaluating ideas,
- Listening and being open to other points of view,
- Critically discussing material (and avoiding personal attacks), and
- Taking and ceding “the floor.”
- Being aware of your contributions to the seminar—participate but don't dominate the discussion, and allow for others to think and respond before you jump in. A silent seminar member is as challenging as one who is always talking. Everyone needs to feel safe in the seminar. Please do not tell others how they should think or feel...you can only discuss your own feelings and perspectives. You are all competent young adults; help each other learn and enjoy the class.

Achieving this goal includes attending regularly (I will take attendance) and being ‘present’ during class meetings. It is a small group; I notice when you are uninvolved (and so do your classmates).

(2) Improve your academic writing. The seminar is writing intensive (W, 1/2 DC). By the end of the summer session, you should be able to write a brief commentary in which you advance a position that is supported by evidence or raises and justifies a direction for future research, evaluate and critique a domain or reading, draw on the literature to write a short essay, review the literature to identify areas or questions for future research, and write short a research proposal or produce a case study of your narrative identity interview. The due dates for these assignments are embedded in the syllabus and I will also create a folder with due dates and important info on canvas

(3) Practice oral presentation and communication of ideas.

- 3(a): Leading the discussion of a reading. You will help lead the discussion on one of the readings. A week before you lead the discussion, you will develop a plan for the discussion and write 3 discussion questions you want us to consider. You will email this plan (with the questions) to me for approval, and I will post it on our Canvas site. On the day of the discussion, you will be in charge of leading the group discussion for 15-20 minutes. Your audience, in turn, is responsible for preparing for the discussion. I will keep notes on their engagement. As an audience, you will upload an answer to one of the discussion questions posed by your discussion leader (typed, double spaced, no more than 1/2 of a page in 12 pt. font); this task will help you prepare to contribute and help me keep track of your understanding of the material. An easy way to contribute is to read your answer to the discussion question when the discussion leader poses the question during the large group discussion. As a discussion leader, you can also break your peers into small groups or do another activity to promote participation and discussion.
- 3(b): Brief presentation of your class project. During the last week of the quarter, you will give a 15 minute presentation of your project—paper or podcast.

If you are a DRC student who will need accommodations: Any student who thinks they may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact the Disability Resource Center at 831-459-2089 in room 146 Hahn Student Services or by e-mail at drc@ucsc.edu to coordinate those accommodations. The new system, Accommodate, sends me the accommodation letters, but I still want to meet with you to discuss how I can support your accommodations.

This has been a challenging time. Please let me know if you are experiencing difficulties; if I don't know, I can't help you. Here are additional resources.

Counseling Services (from the website <https://caps.ucsc.edu/about/index.html>): CAPS provides UCSC students with a wide range of mental health services, including group counseling, workshops, crisis assessment and intervention, referral services, and brief individual and couples counseling. Hours: 8:00 AM - 5:00 PM, MON.-FRI., Phone: (831) 459-2628, Fax: (831) 459-5116 Address: Cowell Student Health Center, East Wing, 2nd floor After-Hours/Weekends/Holidays: For crisis services call (831) 459-2628 Emergencies: For life threatening emergencies, call 911.

Slug Support: Slug Support works to help students with financial challenges or other difficulties that are affecting their ability to do well in college. They can help students obtain financial help for food or emergency housing. They can also help students find other campus resources, such as counseling, financial aid, advising, etc. <https://deanofstudents.ucsc.edu/slug-support/program/index.html>

Reading responses for readings assigned for lecture and discussion (20% of final grade, no makeups for missed posts). You will post a 4-5 sentence reflection on the assigned reading AND respond respectfully to a peer's post. Due in Canvas by 11:59 pm the night before they are assigned for lecture. Late posts will not be accepted. On-time posts will be graded as 3 = excellent, 2 = good, 1

= fair, and 0 missing/late/did not follow instructions. I will provide examples of commentaries in class and on a handout posted on canvas.

Cheating and Plagiarism: Academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Cheating includes (1) copying from another person's exam or paper; (2) letting another person copy from your exam or paper, (3) fabricating information for your class project, and (4) plagiarism. Plagiarism is defined as any use of another author's words or ideas without providing credit or an appropriate citation. Cheating and plagiarism will result in a zero grade for the exam or paper AND a letter to the chair of your department and the provost of your college. A second time of such behavior will result in a no pass (F) for the course AND a second letter to the chair and provost. If you are unsure as to what constitutes academic dishonesty, please meet with me or your TA. Information is also available here: <http://library.ucsc.edu/help/howto/citations-and-style-guides>. Principles and procedures concerning academic integrity are available at this link: http://www.ue.ucsc.edu/academic\_integrity.

GRADING

Attendance and Participation in Discussion and Activities 20%

Discussion posts: 20%

Short Essay 20% (draft + final)

Leading the discussion: 10%

Seminar Project and Presentation: 30% (first draft + final draft + presentation)

90-100% = A, 95 and above A+

80-89% = B

70-79% = C. If you are taking the course P/NP you need at least a C

60-69 = D

59 and below = F

NOTES ON ATTENDANCE AND COMMUNITY

(1) Before class, please turn off your cell phone or put it on vibrate.

(2) I will always start on time. Please be on time—if you arrive late or leave early, please be discrete so you do not disrupt the discussion and activities.

(3) Please be respectful of each other. And please watch your tone when you ask a question or make a comment.

(4) You are responsible for the material and announcements you miss.

(5) I welcome your questions and comments, within reason—monitor your floor time so that you don't dominate the conversation and I can get through the material.

(6) Please remember that your private conversations are very disruptive to your fellow students and me.

(7) You can always email me with questions or suggestions—I expect politeness in your emails. I check my email in the mornings and early evenings (6-7pm)—but only do so consistently Monday-Friday. If you email me during the weekend, I will respond the following Monday.

(8) If you are having trouble with the class, a concept, etc., do not wait until the last minute. I am happy to help you.

SEMINAR PLAN (Which may be revised)

WEEK 1: INTRODUCTION AND OVERVIEW

Tuesday, June 21 Overview of the course and introduction to personal and social/collective identity development. I will also talk about how to construct a provocative discussion question and commentary.

Focus: personal and social identities in historical, cultural, societal, and developmental contexts. Think about how historical times, issues of gender, ethnicity/race, and social class contour your lives, and about how your identities support or challenge your daily interactions, relationships, values, and your long-term educational, career, and personal goals
